It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

INTRODUCTION.

THIS is a book which appeals to two classes of individuals—those who deal with books for purposes of trade, and those who collect books to satisfy their tastes. The bookseller would look upon such a compilation as this in the light of a record of the year's doings in that mart in which the book-collector's energies are finally concentrated and dissipated. It would also be for him a guide by which he might appreciate the varying changes of the "collecting" fashion. The book-collector (whom we may also consider as the book-lover) might find in it the fruits of a brother-collector's experience, and so obtain that knowledge which would give him the power to tread more wisely and sanely in the mazy ways of his delightful and fascinating hunting-grounds.

As a rule, the book-dealer is an unsentimental being. That individual who would rather keep his books than sell them is become almost extinct. Indeed, I question if he exists at all, except it be in the glowing imagination of the novelist. Occasionally I have met with a bookseller who was also a book-lover; but then the prices he asked for his wares were in proportion to the depth of his affection for them. He is a charming person to chat with, but one must have a long pocket to possess oneself of the rarities he has accumulated. The poor man would find himself sorely tempted to bad ways were he to give way to the longings which such conversations invariably arouse. The rich is happy in that he may both enjoy and possess at will. Envidable man of wealth! The book-collector is of quite another order of beings. He may be unbusiness-like; indifferent to the cares and anxieties of daily life; selfish, if you like; living apart from the general affairs of the world. But then, he is a man of passion! He is touched by an almost spirit-touch, which transfigures for him the harsh realities of existence. He is consumed by a glorious desire. He lives in a world peopled by the rarest souls, in whose companionship he finds a never-failing delight. Such an one may be even a poor man. The race to which he belongs is, thank the Fates, not yet run. He is the lover of the world of forgotten souls—and his enthusiasm is one of the traits of our nature which makes for the poetry of life.

The late M. Pierre Gustav Brunet, by whose death the book-collector loses the most accomplished and able of his physicians, wrote an essay which he entitled Du Prix des Livres Rares Vers la Fin du XIX^e Siècle. Now, M. Brunet was well able to discuss such a topic. He had had long experience, and a rare intimacy with the variations of the prices of books. He had also the privilege of the friendships of book-collectors, whose tastes were as catholic as their purses were fat. In this essay, he has carefully laid down some of the essential qualities which go to the making of a beau-ideal book-collector.

"He must," he says, "be master of an independent fortune ; he must be a celibate and master of all his passions but the dominating one ; he must be armed with imperturbable coolness and with profound literary learning. The exterior of a book must appeal to him as much as the contents ; he must recognize the peculiarities and specialities of the work of every celebrated binder, so that he may distinguish at a glance a binding of Dérome from one of Dérome le Jeune. A complete stranger to political life, he hardly notices the hero of the hour, and he treats with scornful indifference the hero of a change of ministry. Towards the close of his life he begins to concern himself in the fate of his beloved books, and in the reception which will be given to the catalogue in which will be registered all the riches which he has accumulated."

It will be seen at once that M. Brunet limits his class down to a select few. His requirements are born of those favourites of fortune with whom he had so many and so happy relations. Of course, whatever he says is worth careful consideration ; but I speak feelingly when I express my disagreement with even so learned an authority. I should imagine that half the pleasure of book-collecting would be missed, if I could go into, say, Mr. Quaritch's shop, and order all the books I wanted, giving the cheque with my order. This may be magnificent, but it is not what I call book-collecting or book-hunting. There's no sport about this. It sounds too much like a royal battue. Nor is it absolutely necessary to be such a connoisseur in bindings, unless, indeed, one makes bindings a speciality.

The question of celibacy is rather a delicate one, and I am inclined to agree with M. Brunet. Women are pretty shrewd when they look askance on the husbands who profess to love them as well as the books they nightly and surreptitiously sneak into the house. The point about the learning is also a delicate one—so few book-collectors come up to it. Perhaps it will be better to leave this matter alone, and make silence the intimation of acquiescence. I think, on the whole, that M. Brunet is wise, and if any of my readers fail to find in what he says much hope for their own success, I would ask them to seek consolation in mastering even the “dominating passion,” and buy only that which they can afford.

The question then arises, what to buy? And the answer must depend on the special motive which prompts one to become a book-collector. If you love books as bric-à-brac, you will, indeed, require to be “master of an independent fortune.” If you love books to read, you will buy what you like to read. If you love books for themselves, that is to say, for what they are and for what joy you may get out of them, both in reading and in having them about you, you must needs proceed warily and with much circumspection. Remember always then, that whatever you buy may be sold again at some future time. It may be in your lifetime; it may be after you have gone to where there is no book-hunting. Therefore, let every purchase you make be the best you can get. Let it be the first edition, in the best condition. Never mind if your taste is as low as the minor poets’ fourpenny box—these two requirements are absolutely essential. When I have said this, I think I have said all. If, however, you wish to collect books as a speculation, then it will be necessary for you to add to these two essentials a knowledge of the particular fashion in vogue, or likely to be when you are about to “sell out.” For there is a fashion in books as there is in wearing apparel. Once on a time, the classics were in demand, and “best editions” of these used to bring very “high” prices. The craze for Elzevirs and Aldines is another of the past phases in book-collecting. The ponderous “art books” of the early and middle years of this century were once greatly prized, as were also the immense county histories. These, however, have all more or less waned. The book-collector as speculator must, therefore, be careful. Just now there is a large run on Napoleana, Alpine books, first editions of the French romanticists of 1830, and first editions of the limited issues of a few minor poets. Here again, I must urge the necessity for great care ; because I am convinced that the fashion in these will soon be gone, if, indeed, they are not already going. Books on Napoleon may last some little time yet, possibly to the end of the century.

In England, the longest lived fashion is the Dickens and Thackeray craze. It argues a remarkable hold these two writers have obtained on the public affection, and judged by this, Thackeray should prove a good subject for a collector for many years to come. I do not think that the first editions of Dickens can much longer keep up their prices. Perhaps "Pickwick" in the original parts and in good condition, will alone always be worth an investment.

So long as Englishmen love sporting, the good books on that subject are "safe," and Alken, Apperley, Surtees and Izaak Walton will remain names to conjure with.

In America, of course, there are local influences to take into consideration, and the first editions of their classical writers must, naturally, come in for a share of the book-buyer's attention. Possibly the works of Henry James, Howells, and Oliver Wendell Holmes may one day have the same care taken of them as are now being expended on the works of Emerson, Longfellow, and Nathaniel Hawthorne. But those books which are known as "Americana," that is to say, the tracts and pamphlets relating to the history and literature of America, issued between the dates of the discovery of that continent and, say, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, must become rarer and rarer, and must fetch increasingly higher prices.

If I were asked to name what classes of books it would be always safe to invest in, I should say :

- (1) Early printed books with illustrations.
- (2) Books printed by the "classical" printers of the fifteenth century—the true incunabula.
- (3) The first editions of those writers who are accounted classics—The Bible, Homer, Dante, Goethe, Molière, Shakespeare, Milton, Goldsmith, Shelley, etc.
- (4) First editions of "classical" historians—in England, Froude, Gardiner, Motley, Prescott, etc.
- (5) Early examples in the illustration of books by the best artists, of no matter what period.
- (6) Very limited editions of books which may safely be called "literature."

It is somewhat rash to give such advice as this, since it is difficult to allow for the passing fashions. But these six classes of books cannot be affected, to any large extent, by any fashion. The books of the fashion generally reflect the particular "movement" of the time, and these the true book-lover will always avoid. The speculator, if he indulges himself in them, must take care to "sell out" at the right moment—at the time when the craze is at its height.

Large-paper editions must go the way of all flesh. They are a delusion and a snare, and the less said about them the better. Of living English novelists I can call to mind but two whose works are likely to remain long as treasures in the bibliophile's cabinet. These are Robert Louis Stevenson and Rudyard Kipling. Stevenson is having his vogue just now, but Kipling's time will come, and he will come to stay.

Books printed by "private" presses are also certain to remain "good." Generally the number of copies issued are very limited, and this is an important fact to take into consideration. The works printed at the Kelmscott Press will, in time, be worth much more than they are now. A reference to the sales included in this volume will show that a great many have been sold at auction, but, as a rule, these are the "over-buyings" of the too greedy bookseller. The Vale Press of Hacon and Ricketts promises to produce volumes which should be worth the attention of the book-lover and the collector. The types with which they are printed have been specially designed by Mr. Ricketts, and are, in their way, as beautiful as Mr. Morris's.

The "Daniell" press books, and the books printed at Sargent's, Chelsea Press, can only have a temporary attention. They are not printed from originally-designed types, as are the "Kelmscott" and "Vale" books.

In making use of a book of this kind many allowances will have to be taken into consideration. Auction "prices" can in no sense be taken as the ruling prices of the market. A book may fetch 10s. one day and £5 another day. Moreover, the condition of a book is so large a factor in its resultant value, that a just estimate could only be arrived at by one who had personally attended the "sale." In order to give my compilation even a slight claim to obviate difficulties of this nature, I have, where possible, stated the conditions of the lots, and placed notes either at the beginning of the record of the sale, or after the separate lots. The excellent catalogues which Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson and Hodge always issue, have been of the utmost importance. Without them, indeed, the book could not have been attempted at all. With regard to the considerations which have influenced me in the selection of "lots," I may say that I have set no limit as to prices. A long experience with books and their values has taught me that a bookseller, as well as a collector, often finds it of great assistance to know when and why a rare book brings either a very high or a very low price. That this often happens, anyone acquainted with auction sales knows full well. Therefore I have included in this record many lots which have fetched but a few shillings. The vagaries of the "rooms" are as incalculable as a woman's whims, and they are not always due to the "poor condition." Where I could fix the causes I have done so, and, I believe, in most cases correctly. My principal aim in compiling this book was to give the reader such information as would enable him to arrive at a reasonable estimation of the "lots" and their values, just as if he had been at the "sale" himself.

I lay claim to no special merit for this book other than may be found in the notes and in the comprehensive Index. Here, I think, I have attempted to make plain the crooked ways of such a reference book as this. In the Index I have given the dates in a very great number of cases. This, I hope, will help to save time in referring to any particular book or edition. I am fully alive to the many defects which a searching criticism could bring to light, but as I hope to continue this record annually, I would thank my readers for any suggestions they care to make by which the work could be improved.

I have only one word more of advice to offer, and it is to reiterate what I have already said, namely, never collect other than first editions, and never buy a book in bad condition. When you have satisfied these demands, lay to heart these two "pieces" of wisdom—Never lend a book ; and Never ill-treat a book.

With these words I take leave of you with the hope that you may find the rest of this volume as much to your taste and profit as it has been laborious for me to accomplish. I could wish you nothing greater than this.

BOOK SALES OF 1895

BOOK SALES OF 1895.

MESSRS. SOTHEY, WILKINSON, AND HODGE opened their season of book sales on Friday, December 14th, 1894. A collection of valuable books and manuscripts, "including a portion of the library of the late James Whitchurch, Esq., and of the late T. Chapman, Esq., F.R.S., and others," was disposed of. The sale left no doubt as to which portion of the catalogue was most appreciated. The books sold during the first three days were without a doubt far and away the best of the five days' sale.

1. Dickens (C.). THE STRANGE GENTLEMAN, a Comic Burletta, in Two Acts. By "Boz." Original edition. Frontispiece by "Phiz." Clean copy, in original wrapper. Crown 8vo. 1837. £35
 ¶ With the Frontispiece, perhaps the rarest of all Dickens's works. It is often met with minus "Phiz's" plate, when it fetches from £8 to £12. Mr. Burgess's copy was sold in June, 1893, for £38. Mr. Sabin, of Shaftesbury Avenue, was the purchaser of both copies. £48

Fine copy (pp. 3 and 4 very slightly cut in headlines, and a very small hole in title), brown polished levant morocco, inside gilt borders, enclosed in morocco slip case by Rivière. SALE OF BOOKS FROM VARIOUS LIBRARIES.

Messrs. Sotheby and Co., January 14th and 15th, 1895.

¶ THE prices realized at this sale were exceptionally low. My readers who are in the "trade" will see for themselves why this was so. The books were of a miscellaneous character, collected together from various sources, and the catalogue simply stated "Catalogue of Books from Various Libraries." Another point to note, is the fact that the books, of any value, were more or less in "poor condition."

38. Thackeray (W. M.). WORKS. Edition de luxe, 24 vols. Portraits, and illustrations by the author on India paper. Royal 8vo. 1878-79. £10 5s.
39. Ackerman's Repository of Arts, Literature, Commerce, Fashions, etc. A set, 40 vols. Coloured plates by Rowlandson and others. Bound in 27 vols., half-russia. Royal 8vo. 1809-28. £10 15s.

¶ With the exception of lot 76, the above six lots realized prices which are in no way criterions as to their values. This was owing to the copies being "read" copies, and much cut-down in the binding.

99. Missale Romanum, cum Calendario. Lit. Goth. in red and black, with musical notes (contains folios CCCXXXII., Commune Sanctorum folios CIII., Register 8 pp. Calendar, etc., 9 leaves; wanting title and Colophon), oaken boards, stamped pigskin, clasps. Lugd. Junta, 1506? £3 3s.
100. Shakespeare (Wm.). COMEDIES, HISTORIES, AND TRAGEDIES. First folio edition (wanting Colophon and all the preliminary leaves, except "To the Memory of W. Shakespeare," by L. Digges and J. Jaggard and Blount, 1623. £21 10s.
¶ The copy, of course, was a very poor one. Bought, no doubt, for "making-up" purposes.
101. De Imitatione Christi. A remarkable collection of 6 manuscript and 762 printed editions, ancient and modern, in various languages, of this celebrated devotional work, variously attributed to Thomas à Kempis, John Gersen, Abbot of Verceilenc's; John Gerson, Chancellor of Paris University; and St. Bernard, arranged in languages in chronological order. £101
102. De Imitatione Christi. Another collection of 437 printed editions similar to the former, but containing some different editions. £43
¶ The prices, of course, were absurdly out of proportion to the actual cost. Messrs. Sotheran & Co. were the purchasers of both "Lots." I understand that the British Museum afterwards acquired one, and Mr. W. A. Copinger, the first President of the Bibliographical Society, the other.

SALE OF THE LIBRARY OF THE LATE EDMUND YATES, ESQ.

Messrs. Sotheby and Co., January 21st and 22nd, 1895.

OWING, I presume, to the fact that the books of this library had been the property of Mr. Yates, there had evidently been placed into the hands of the "trade" high commissions. Consequently the prices realized were somewhat high. We note this in order that a due discount may be made in arriving at a fair market value for the books selected.

103. Aldine Poets. Akenside, Beattie, Burns, Butler, Chaucer, Churchill, Collins, Cowper, Dryden, Vols. I. to IV., Falconer, Goldsmith, Gray, Howard, Milton, Parnell, Pope, Prior, Shakespeare, Spenser, Swift, Thomson, Kirke White, Wyatt, Young, 52 vols. Portraits. Half calf, broken. Pickering, 1845-52. £12
104. Allibone (S. A.). CRITICAL DICTIONARY OF ENGLISH LITERATURE AND BRITISH AND AMERICAN AUTHORS, with the Supplement. 5 vols. Royal 8vo. Philadelphia, 1871-91. £3 17s. 6d.

which Dickens reveals in every one. Many of them begin with "My Dear Edmund," and all of them are full of the kindly spirit of the genial soul of the greater novelist. The bidding for the "desk slope" was very keen. It commenced at £50, and Mr. Bancroft, the actor, seemed to be determined to have it. His bids were firm and quick, and when finally it was knocked down to him for 100 guineas, the room re-echoed with applause. The article itself is but an insignificant equivalent for the sum expended. But we have no doubt that Mr. Bancroft rejoiced exceedingly when he viewed it on the table of his own study.

SALE OF THE COLLECTION MADE BY CHARLES B. FOOTE, ESQ., OF NEW YORK, U.S.A.

Sold by Bangs and Co., of New York, January 30th and 31st, 1895.

131. Aleyn (Charles). THE BATAILLES OF CRESCY AND POICTIERS. Small 8vo., morocco extra (a beautiful and chaste example of binding by P. Ruban, of Paris). London, 1633. £4 10s.
¶ Second edition, enlarged; very fine copy.
132. Aleyn (Charles). HISTORIE OF HENRIE THE SEVENTH. Beautiful impression of the rare portrait by Marshall. 8vo., morocco extra, by P. Ruban. Rare. First edition. London, 1638. £5
133. Allot (Robert). ENGLAND'S PARNASSUS; or, The Choysest Flowers of our Moderne Poets, with their Poeticall Comparisons. Small 8vo., purple Levant morocco extra, gilt edges, by Francis Bedford. Imprinted at London for N. L. C. B. and T. H. 1600. £42
¶ The only early edition, and excessively rare. A very large (5½ by 3½ in.) and perfect copy, not a headline touched. This book is made up of extracts from the poets of the day; seventy-nine are from Shakespeare; others are from Spenser, Marlowe, Lodge, Greene, Gascoigne, Drayton, etc. The present copy is of exceptional interest, as it possesses two original blank leaves before the title, the first of which bears the signature "A," and also the original blank last leaf, thus proving that the book consists entirely of sheets of eight leaves each. A copy without the original blank leaves and signature "A," and described, "with some headlines cut into and a few leaves wormed," sold at Puttick & Simpson's auction rooms in June, 1893, for £20. See also No. 498.

136. Benlowes (Edward). THEOPHILA; OR, LOVE'S SACRIFICE: a Divine Poem. Portrait of the author by Barlow, and 12 of the rare engravings belonging to the work. Folio boards. 1652. £7
¶ First edition. This excessively rare book (as first issued by the author), generally occurs with 5 or 6 plates only, other engravings when finished having been added to copies afterwards presented to his friends. Copies differ very materially as to the number of plates, and this one contains more than the average number. The present owner destroyed another copy of this book to secure plates which were not in this copy when purchased.

137. Braithwaite (R.). BARNABÆ ITINERARIUM; or, Barnabees Journall, by Corymbœus. Frontispiece by William Marshall. 8vo., blue morocco, by Ramage. London, n. d. (1638.) £40
 ¶ First edition. This is by far the rarest of all of Braithwaite's numerous publications, as well as being the most desirable. This is the only perfect copy, with one exception, known to the present owner, and no copy has been offered by a London bookseller during the past ten years. In a recent note to the second edition of 1716, offered by a prominent London bookseller, he states that the first edition is unobtainable.
138. Braithwaite (R.). A BOULSTER LECTURE. 8vo., morocco, by W. Pratt. First edition. London, 1640. £17
 ¶ This is a fine large copy of this scarce book, and contains a brilliant impression of the frontispiece engraved by William Marshall.

140. Brome (Alexander). THE POEMS OF HORACE. Small 8vo., old calf. London, 1666. £5 10s.
 ¶ A most interesting copy. Contains the portrait of Alexander Brome by Loggan, and the frontispiece bust of Horace engraved by John Dunstall. The present copy contains the leaf of imprimatur preceding the portrait. On the back of the portrait is the following in the autograph of the poet: "The gift of Mr. Alexander Brome, who collected and published all and translated some of the poems."
 It also bears the autograph of S. Rogers on title. The condition of the book is most perfect, and the binding shows it was for presentation, and is in fine preservation.
141. Brontë. POEMS, by Currer, Ellis, and Acton Bell (the Brontë Sisters). 8vo., half morocco, by Rivière. London, 1846. £7
 ¶ First edition. Scarce. Inserted is the following autograph letter:—
 "MANCHESTER, Sept.
 "GENTLEMEN,
 "I should be obliged by your sending me two cloth copies of Bell's poems.
 "As the work has received no further notice from any periodical, I presume the demand for it has not greatly increased.
 "I am gentlemen,
 "Yr's. truly,
 "C. BRONTË."
- Autograph letters of Charlotte Brontë are very rare, and command a very high price, both here and abroad.
142. Browning (Elizabeth Barrett), THE BATTLE OF MARATHON, a Poem, by Elizabeth Barrett Browning. 8vo., morocco extra, uncut, by Rivière. London, 1820. £66
 ¶ A perfect and large copy (8 by 5½ in. of the first edition of this practically unobtainable volume. The London "Athenæum" of Nov. 7, 1891, in a three-column article, refers to the book as follows:—

"The dedication of the Battle of Marathon to the poetess's father is dated 1819; the only clue given as to the time in that year at which the dedication was written is the date 1820 on the title-page. It is natural to suppose that the young author had completed her work not much before the close of the year 1819; but this is more or less a matter of conjecture; and it is even possible, though not altogether probable, that the poem had been finished a year or two before it was dedicated and put to press.

"The point is of some consequence, because the interest of 'The Battle of Marathon' is extrinsic rather than intrinsic.

"If written after March 6, 1819, the author had completed her thirteenth year when she wrote it. Even so, it is a most remarkable production; but, if there were any ground for the reckless assertions which have been made that it was completed before she was eleven years old, the biographical interest of the work would be far greater still.

"The scarcity of the book has not been by any means exaggerated, and it is hardly too much to say that not one of those who have set up as authorities concerning Mrs. Browning appears to have really seen the book."

143. Browning (Elizabeth Barrett). AN ESSAY ON MIND, with other Poems. Tall 12mo., full crushed Levant morocco, uncut, by Matthews. First edition; very rare. London, 1826. £6 4s.

No sale at auction of this first work of Robert Browning has been reported during the past eight years, or since the commencement of the publishing of such reports in 1886. Inserted is a slip cut from a London periodical referring to this identical copy, as follows: "Another copy of the original edition of Browning's 'Pauline' has come to light in London, making the eighth now known. In all twenty copies got into circulation. Until the author's last departure for Italy only five were known, and two of these were in the British Museum, but the author found two copies in an old trunk, making seven, to which number the present copy adds one more. And will read nice and slick,
If you'll only be quick !
I don't write on tick,
That's my comfort avick !"

July 26/37.

The humorous lines addressed to Mr. Hicks were no doubt in answer to a request for the MS. of the "Sixteenth" weekly part of "Pickwick." From a letter inserted in the volume it is evident that Mr. Hicks was in some way engaged in the printing of Dickens' works at that time. Opposite the humorous lines is placed one of the original green covers of the "Sixteenth" weekly part, dated, 1837. Mr. Stevens, through whom this MS. was obtained, some twelve years since, wrote as follows regarding the scarcity of Dickens' MSS. (Letter inserted in volume): "You are of course aware that no complete work of Dickens in his handwriting, except perhaps some of the smaller works, can ever occur for sale, as they are in the South Kensington Museum, to which they were presented by John Forster, who by purchase or gift of Dickens obtained the manuscripts of all his books."

Tuer, publisher, London, dated June 18, 1891, as follows: "These are the two volumes of Lamb's 'Poetry for Children' from which the fac-simile edition was copied." In 1827 Lamb wrote to Bernard Barton: "One likes to have one copy of everything one does. I neglected to keep one of 'Poetry for Children,' the joint production of Mary and me, and it is not to be had for love or money." In 1833 Mary Lamb writes to Mrs. Norris: "Pray accept three little books, and some of you give me a line to say you received them. I send them this afternoon by Carter's Coach. The first volume, printed here, is not to be had for love or money, so I send you an American edition of it, and the second volume, American also, to suit with it. It is much the same as the London one." It was not until 1877 that a copy of this first edition came into the possession of a collector, of which the following announcement appeared in the "London Athenæum" of June 16 of that year: "A discovery of much literary interest has been made in a region that would have seemed unlikely enough to yield such a treasure. The long-lost 'Poetry for Children,' by Charles and Mary Lamb, published in two tiny volumes at Godwin's Juvenile Library in 1809, has, at last, been found in South Australia."

Kingdom, 1811. Square 8vo., stiff board cover, uncut. Enclosed in morocco case. £48

The title, on a stiff board cover, is enclosed in a key border, and has the illustration on the back of the "Long-Nosed King and Aged Fairy." Only a few copies of this little volume are known. ¶ Early editions of Lydgate are exceedingly rare. The woodcut of the Annunciation on the recto of the title-page and the large one of the Presentation in the Temple on the verso of title-page, and the full-page cut on the recto of the last leaf, add greatly to the interest of the volume. The printer's device occupies the whole of the verso of the last leaf.

255. Malory (Sir Thomas). HISTORY OF THE RENOWNED PRINCE ARTHUR. In three parts, separate title to each part, with the three frontispieces. Black letter. 4to., morocco, by Bedford. London, 1634. £16

258. Milton (John). PARADISE LOST. 4to., morocco extra, by Alfred Matthews. In slip case. London: Peter Parker, 1667. £105
 ¶ First edition, first title. Extremely rare. Fine large copy, measuring 7½ by 5½ in. She lived to a great age and died at Nantwich in Cheshire. This was bought by a Gent, who brought it to London and sold it to the Honbl. Arthur Onslow, Speaker, from whence I engraved it. G. V."  ¶ An unusually tall and clean copy. Second edition of his poems, with additions and the last published during his lifetime. The additional sonnets contained in this volume make it desirable to collectors. The title-page has been slightly torn at the bottom, but is neatly repaired without affecting in any way the lettering of the same.
261. Milton (John). LETTERS OF STATE. 12mo., full crushed Levant morocco, by Stikeman. First edition. London, 1694. £7 8s.
262. Phillips (Edward). THEATRUM POETARUM, etc. Small 12mo., full crushed levant morocco, by Stikeman. In slip case. London, 1675. £18
 ¶ First edition. Edward Phillips was a nephew of John Milton, and it is believed that he was aided by Milton in revising some of the lives of the Poets, notably that of Shakespeare.
 Inserted in pocket of slip case is the following autograph letter from Lamb, addressed to Mrs. Dyer, Clifford's Inn, Fleet Street, bearing the postmark "Edmonton Mg. De. 22, 1834," and referring to a copy of this work.
 "DEAR MRS. DYER:
 I am very uneasy about a Book which I either have lost, or left at your house on Thursday. It was the Book I went out to fetch from Miss Buffams, while the tripe was frying. It is called 'Phillips's Theatrum Poetarum,' but it is an English Book. I think I left it in the Parlour. It is Mr. Cary's book, and I would not lose it for the world. Pray, if you find it, book it at the Swan, Snow Hill, by an Edmonton Stage immediately, directed to Mr. Lamb, Church Street, Edmonton, or write to say you cannot find it. I am quite anxious about it. If it is lost, I shall never like Tripe again. With kindest love to Mr. Dyer and all.

Yours Truly,
CH. LAMB."

263. Pope and Swift. *EPISTOLÆ OBSCURORUM VIRO-
RUM* ad. Dn. M. Ortuinum
Gratium. Nova et accurata Editio. 12mo., old calf, enclosed in a levant morocco pull-off case by Zaehnsdorf. Francofurti ad Mœnum, 1643. £5 16s.
¶ This copy of "the great Satire of Germany" formerly belonged to the two great English Satirists, Pope and Swift, who must keenly have appreciated its wonderful, caustic, unscrupulous and often not too delicate wit.

It bears on fly-leaves the following AUTOGRAPH INSCRIPTIONS :

"Ex Libris Tho. Monson"
"Nunc Alex. Pope"
"Nunc Jonath: Swift"
"bought this at Dean Swift's auction.

ED: LISLE."

The "Epistolæ Obscurorum Virorum" were first published in 1516; "and," as Herder justly observes, "effected for Germany incomparably more than Hudibras for England, or Gargantua for France, or the Knight of La Mancha for Spain. It gave the victory to Reuchlin over the Begging Friar, and to Luther over the Court of Rome."

SIR WILLIAM HAMILTON.

264. Pope (Alexander). THE DUNCIAD. With Notes Variorum, and the Prolegomena of Scriblerus. 4to., old calf. London: Printed for Lawton Gilliver, 1729. £4
¶ First edition, with both the "Ass" and the "Owl" frontispieces.
265. Prior (Matthew). POEMS. Frontispiece. 8vo., full crushed levant morocco extra, by Ruban, of Paris. In slip case. London, 1709. £7 10s.

266. Ramsay (Allan). THE EVER GREEN, a Collection of Scots Poems. 2 vols. 8vo., green morocco extra, gilt over marble, by Pagnant, of Paris. Edinburgh: T. Ruddiman, 1724. £12
¶ This is the first edition of this celebrated collection. It was the Author's intention to continue the series, but only these two volumes were published.
Inserted is a Receipt for subscription to the two volumes, with the Author's autograph signature, as follows :
"No. 179 Edinburgh ——— 1724.
Received from Brian Fairfax, Esq., Half-a-Crown, as the half price of Two Volumes of Scots Poems, to be printed with all possible speed, and to be delivered to ——— in sheets (on paying another Half-Crown with this Receipt)."
(Signed) ALLAN RAMSAY.

Fine impression of the curious frontispiece. London, 1660. £14
¶ Of extraordinary rarity, and much more so than the edition of 1662, particularly in such fine state. As is always the case, sig. G is wanting. The difficulty of obtaining the work is very great, the songs having been issued separately and afterwards published in volume form.
- Mr. Perkins has written on fly-leaf of book, 32 lines in reference to this copy, in which he refers to it as the "First edition of the greatest rarity," and upon comparing it with two other copies of same date, finds this to be the only perfect one and believes it to be unique.
270. Sanderson (Cobden). THE DEFENCE OF GUENEVERE, and other Poems, by William Morris. 12mo. First edition. In slip case. London, 1858. £37
¶ Elegantly bound by Mr. Cobden Sanderson in smooth terra-cotta coloured morocco, the sides covered with figures of interlaced roses in gold; inside morocco borders, delicately tooled with sprays, gaufered gilt edges, with the binder's stamp, dated 1888.
271. Shenstone (W.). POEMS UPON VARIOUS OCCASIONS, written for the entertainment of the Author and printed for the Amusement of a few Friends, prejudiced in his Favour. 8vo., morocco, gilt edges. Oxford, 1737. £3 12s.
¶ First edition. Privately printed and excessively rare, as subsequently the author bought up all the copies he could recall and destroyed them.
272. Smollett (Tobias). HISTORY OF AN ATOM. 2 vols. 12mo., calf by De Coverly. First edition, rare. London, 1749. £3
273. Smollett (Tobias). PEREGRINE PICKLE. 4 vols. 12mo., calf, by De Coverly. First edition, scarce. London, 1751. £6
274. Stanley (Thomas). POEMS. 8vo., morocco, by Lewis. London, 1651. £2
¶ First edition of a very rare volume.
This copy is from the Jolley and Gaisford collections, and is fine and large. This is one of the privately printed issues of this volume. Copies occur dated 1652, with imprint of Humphrey Moseley.
Included in the volume is the second edition of Aurora, Ismenia and the Prince, etc., by T. Stanley, 1650.
275. Stapylton (Sir Robert). MUSÆUS, ON THE LOVES OF HERO AND LEANDER, with Annotations upon the original, by Sir Robert Stapylton, Knight, Gentleman of the Privie Chamber to the Prince. Engraved frontispiece by William Marshall, with the "Argument" opposite. 12mo., calf, gilt edges. London: Humphrey Moseley, 1647. £7 10s.
¶ A very scarce little volume, with both the engraved and printed titles. Copies with the engraved title are very rare. No sales by auction of this rare book have been reported for the past ten years.
276. Sterline (William, Earle of). RECREATIONS WITH THE MUSES. Large paper, very scarce portrait and title neatly inlaid, and top margin of one page restored, else a fine sound copy in russia extra, gilt edges, folio. London: Printed by Tho. Harper, 1637. £30
¶ First collected edition. J. Fuller Russell's copy, at whose sale in 1885 it brought £39.
Copies on large paper are excessively rare. The portrait by Marshall is considered his chef-d'œuvre, and is an exceedingly brilliant impression.

Very few copies contain this portrait, and it is presumed that it was only added to presentation copies.

The Bibliotheca Poetica in 1815 prices a copy, with portrait, at £50, and states that it is doubtful if there are more than three or four copies with portrait in existence.

277. Sterne (Laurence). A SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY. 2 vols. Small 8vo., morocco, by Stikeman. First edition. London, 1768. £3 4s.

283. Tennyson (Alfred and Charles). POEMS BY TWO BROTHERS. 8vo., full levant morocco, uncut, by Alfred Matthews. Large paper. London, 1827. £34
 ¶ This, the first publication of Tennyson, is very scarce, and especially so on large paper. A small paper copy, offered recently by a New York bookseller, was priced at $135.
 Inserted in this copy is an autograph letter from Tennyson to Edward Moxon, his publisher.
284. Tennyson (A., of Trinity College). TIMBUCTOO: a Poem which obtained the Chancellor's Medal at the Cambridge Commencement, MDCCCXXIX. 8vo., half morocco, uncut. First edition. Scarce. Cambridge, 1829. £7

294. Tennyson (Alfred). ENOCH ARDEN, etc. Small 8vo., morocco, uncut, by Stikeman. London, 1864. £7
 ¶ First edition. Inserted is an autograph letter dated Farringford, I.W., Dec. 18, '60. Signed, Yours ever Truly,
 A. TENNYSON.
295. Tennyson (Alfred). IDYLLS OF THE HEARTH. 8vo., morocco extra, uncut, by P. Ruban, Paris. In slip case. London, 1864. £45
 ¶ Author's proof sheets, with corrections in his handwriting. The title of the volume was apparently cancelled, and that of "Enoch Arden" substituted.
 The text varies materially in many places from that of the published volume, and in "The Voyage," page 149, Verses X. and XI. appear in "Enoch Arden" (somewhat altered) as Verses XI. and X. respectively.
296. Tennyson (Alfred). THE HOLY GRAIL, and other Poems. Small 8vo., morocco, uncut, by Stikeman. London, 1870. £2 8s.
297. Tennyson (Alfred). GARETH AND LYNETTE, etc. Small 8vo., morocco, uncut, by Stikeman. London, 1872. £5
 ¶ First edition. Inserted is an autograph letter, signed, Ever yours,
 A. TENNYSON.
298. Tennyson (Alfred). QUEEN MARY. 8vo., morocco, uncut, by Stikeman. London, 1875. £7
 ¶ First edition. Inserted is an autograph letter from Tennyson, declining a very liberal offer, as his own publisher wants something quite new for a fresh edition he is about to publish.

 ¶ First edition. Inserted in volume is an autograph letter from Tennyson as follows:—

 "Yours Truly,
 "A. TENNYSON."

301. Tennyson (Alfred). BALLADS AND OTHER POEMS. Small 8vo., morocco, by Stikeman. First edition. London, 1880. £2
302. Tennyson (Alfred). THE PASSING OF ARTHUR. 12mo. Clean copy, in original wrapper. In slip case. London, 1884. £5
 ¶ The prices realized for most of these "Tennyson's" are ridiculously high. This can only be accounted for by the almost absolute mania Americans have for anything of Tennyson's.

303. Tennyson (Alfred). THE CUP AND THE FALCON. Small 8vo., original green cloth, untrimmed edges. London, 1884. £2 8s.
 ¶ First edition. Inserted is an Autograph Letter, as follows:
 "MY DEAR SIR,
 "There is no chance of my staying over Monday—therefore instead of eating with you I will thank you and bid you farewell. "Yours very truly,
 "A. TENNYSON."
304. Tennysoniana. Second edition, revised and enlarged. Small 8vo., full levant morocco, uncut, by Matthews. London, 1879. £2
 ¶ A Bibliography of Tennyson's writings, together with a list of Reviews and Criticisms; a valuable help to collectors of Tennyson.
305. Waller (Edmund). POEMS, etc. 8vo., full levant morocco, by Stikeman. Large paper copy. London, 1645. £30
 ¶ First authorized edition. There were three distinct editions of Waller published in this year, all of which are rare, while this one, on large paper, is excessively so. Size, $6\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{4}$ in.

 ¶ Authorized edition. Title mended, but otherwise a large and very fine copy of this very rare volume. This book was published by the friends of the author after his death, in consequence of the unauthorized publication of a portion of the contents of the present volume as "The Second Part of Mr. Waller's Poems." From the preface to the volume I quote the following: "The copy from which they were printed was very imperfect; and there being no means left to suppress them, it was thought fit to suffer them to be more correctly printed from the last and truest copies."
309. Walton (Izaak). THE COMPLEAT ANGLER. Small 8vo., morocco extra, by Lewis. London, 1668. £28
 ¶ Fourth edition. From the Hibbert Library. The early editions of the Angler are very rare, and are constantly advancing in price, and a large, clean copy, like the present one, in a fine Lewis binding, is a desirable addition to any collection. A very large copy, measuring $5\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{4}$ in.
310. Walton's Lives. Portraits. 8vo., full crushed levant morocco, by Stikeman. Fine copy. London, 1670. £13

314. Wordsworth (William) and Coleridge (S. T.). LYRICAL BALLADS AND OTHER POEMS. 2 vols. 8vo., original half calf. London, 1798-1800. £40
 ¶ First edition. With many additions and alterations in the "Rime of the Ancient Mariner," in the handwriting of S. T. Coleridge. Autograph Letter of Wm. Wordsworth inserted.

¶ It must be borne in mind, in arriving at a true estimate of the prices realized at this sale, that the books were in specially fine condition, and that the library was well "boomed" before the sale took place. Many collectors were anxious to obtain specimens; and, as is the case when Americans make up their mind, no money considerations stopped them. Consequently the prices ruled very high—far above the real market values.

As an indication of the prices booksellers obtain for books in America, I give a few extracts from a catalogue of a large firm:

Messrs. Dodd, Mead and Co.'s "Catalogues of Rare and Choice Books." They offer a set of the best editions of Audubon's "Birds and Quadrupeds" for 3,000 dols., and a copy of Bewick's "Birds," first edition, and on largest paper, is priced at 450 dols. An exceptionally tall copy of the Kilmarnock edition of Burns's "Poems" may be had for 750 dols., and a first edition of Coleridge's "Christabel," bound by Cobden-Sanderson, for 200 dols. An almost perfect copy of Brandt's "Ship of Fools," printed by Pynson, is catalogued at 500 dols., and the same price is placed opposite the first edition of Sidney's "Arcadia." They have not for sale a first edition of Walton's "Compleat Angler," but they have the rare second, and they want 250 dols. for it. They devote a page of the cover of the catalogue to a comparison of the prices which Mr. Foote paid them for some of his purchases, and the prices realized at the recent sale (see previous pages). It may interest my readers. For the first edition of Milton's "Paradise Lost," Mr. Foote gave Messrs. Dodd and Mead, about fifteen years ago, the sum of £13. It sold for £105. Herbert's "Temple," which cost its owner £50, realized £210. Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield," in its first state, was purchased for £15, and sold for £68; while Tennyson's "Poems of Two Brothers," for which £15 was given about ten years ago, realized £34. Twelve years ago Mr. Foote gave £5 for a first edition, uncut, of Lamb's "Rosamund Gray;" he made a profit of £65 on it. Six years ago he bought Lamb's "Poetry for Children" for £42, three months ago he sold it for £84. From all this Messrs. Dodd, Mead and Co. argue that the purchasing of rare books is a good investment, and if by rare books is meant also books in the choicest condition, I quite agree with them. There can be no greater mistake than the purchase of rare books in bad "condition," no matter at how cheap a price. Booksellers are realizing this more and more, and a bookseller worthy the name will never offer his customer a "poor copy." It pays neither the seller nor the buyer.

THE LIBRARIES OF THE LATE BARON DE HOCHEPIED LARPENT, OF THE LATE JULIA, COUNTESS OF JERSEY, AND MR. BRANDLING, OF THE LATE W. H. DE MERLE, ESQ., AND OTHERS.

Sale, January 30th and 31st, and February 1st and 2nd, 1895, at Messrs. Sotheby's.

¶ A most important sale. The items are all of rarity, and the prices realized are an excellent guide as to the market values.

Hieronymi, et Interpretatione Hebræorum Nominum.* A magnificent Manuscript of the XIIIth century, on 499 leaves of vellum (14½ by 10½ inches); the writing is the same throughout the volume, but the first half, as far as page 264, is decorated with numerous Initial Letters containing Miniatures, most beautifully executed by a French artist, and in the latter half the Initial Letters containing Miniatures are executed by an Italian Artist. This fine manuscript was formerly in the Palatine library at Mannheim. Bound in old red morocco, with borders of gold, the edges gilt and painted, with gilt clasps, and the arms of the Count Palatine on the sides. £490
794. Biblia Sacra Latina, cum Prolegomenis S. Hieronymi. A very beautiful Manuscript of the XIIIth century, on 470 leaves of pure thin vellum (10½ by 7½ inches) decorated with upwards of 100 large Initial Letters containing Miniatures, most delicately executed in gold and colours, and extremely curious and interesting as showing the Costume of the Time in which it was written. Venetiis, N. Jenson, 1476. £100
- ¶ This is a noble specimen of Jenson's Gothic type, and it is difficult to imagine a more beautiful example of vellum printing than this volume affords. This copy does not contain the leaf of "Registrum," which is stated by Van Praet to be wanting in several of the seven known copies printed on vellum. Two leaves are stained, and about half of two leaves is supplied by manuscript, but the volume on the whole is very beautiful, and of very rare occurrence.

Dark olive morocco extra, blind tooled, by Thouvenin. £355
¶ This copy is composed of impressions taken off from the same series of wood blocks as were used for a copy in Lord Spencer's library, before the blocks had become deteriorated by constant use; the blocks being also the same from which Count Lucca's copy was taken off when in almost a worn-out state, the impressions having been afterwards coloured.
The present copy wants pages 1 (A) and 9 (1). The former leaf is supplied by a facsimile, and the deficiency of the latter is made up with coloured impressions of the same as that of which there is a perfect copy in the Bodleian Library: an edition not described by bibliographers, though slightly noticed by Heinecken, on the authority of Meerman.

828. Ovidii Metamorphoses et Fasti. A magnificent Italian Manuscript of the XVth Century, on 292 leaves of pure vellum (15½ by 10½ inches), written in a clear round hand, with the commencement of many of the divisions and chapters of the work in capitals of burnished gold and ultramarine, as are also many of the other capitals throughout the volume. The first page presents a fine specimen of the Italian Art of Illumination. It is enclosed by a double border. The inner one is composed of white interlacing branches, intermingled with Cupids, birds and fish, the groundwork being of ultramarine, studded with white dots arranged in triangles. The outer border is richly foliated with gold, intermixed with Cupids, birds, and other ornaments. In the centre of the border are two medallion portraits, finely drawn, and in the lower part is a coat-of-arms supported by angels. The groundwork of the larger Initial Letters is executed in the same interlaced style as the inner border of the first page, the letter itself being in burnished gold; as are also the Initial Letters throughout the work, though upon a painted ground of different colours. Bound in red morocco, with joints, the back and sides covered with gold tooling in the Grolier style, by C. Lewis. From Dr. Hawtrey's collection. £650
- ¶ A more beautiful specimen of this peculiar style of Italian art can hardly be desired; independent of which there is a peculiar interest attached to the volume. It is evident, from the circumstance of a shield-of-arms occurring at the foot of the first page of most manuscripts executed about this period in Italy, that in many instances the dedicatory inscription which accompanied it was destroyed. This manuscript, however, has a leaf preceding the first page, in the centre of which is a long inscription, on purple vellum, in capitals of gold enclosed within a circle, outside of which is the following, by which we learn by whom and to whom the volume was dedicated: "Numini suo illustrissimo et præcellenti Domino Antonello Aversano Ferdinandæ Majestatis Secretario Max. Hippolitus Lunensis eidem ex animo dicatus optima tempora et perpetuos dies optat."
- The above description is taken entire from the auctioneers' catalogue.

SALE AT MESSRS. PUTTICK AND SIMPSON'S,

February 13th, 14th, 15th, 1895.

¶ The catalogue stated "from various sources," an expression which should be noted by those looking into the prices of this sale. However, I have gone carefully into the circumstances attending this sale, and I have made a selection of a few lots the prices of which offer any indication of the true value. It would be only misleading to give the others. The books on the whole were of a poor character.

In the "Waterton" Sale, which took place at Messrs. Sotheby's, on Friday, February 18th, 1895, was sold a very remarkable collection of manuscripts and books of various editions, ancient and modern, of A Kempis's "De Imitatione Christi." The editions were not confined to the original Latin, but included specimens of the best issues in Latin-Italian, Latin-Greek, Latin-French, Latin-German, Italian, French, German, Dutch and Flemish, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Polish, Provençal, Hungarian, Swedish, Danish, Greenland, Slavonic, Finnish, Rhetian, Sardinian, Maltese, Lusatian, Catalan, Breton, Basque, Lettow, Albanian, Welsh, Irish, Gallic, Modern Greek, Greek, Romaic (in Roman and in Greek characters), Malay, Chaldaic, Armenian, Arabic, English. There were two lots sold. The first consisted of six Manuscripts and 762 Printed Editions, ranging from a facsimile of the original Manuscripts, of A.D. 1441, by Charles Rueleus, printed on vellum, and the first edition, with date (1483), down to Suttaby's English Reprint, of 1883. The second lot contained 437 Printed Editions, from the editio princeps, per Gunther Zainer (circa 1471), to the English reprint by Rivington, in 1877. Two such collections have never before occurred for sale, and we doubt whether there be in any single library, public or private, a collection in any way rivalling in completeness this of the Waterton collection. The prices which they realized should be a warning to the collector, who collects either for profit or with the hope that his hobby may prove of value.

952. Stevenson (Robert Louis). FATHER DAMIEN: an Open Letter to the Reverend Dr. Hyde of Honolulu from Robert Louis Stevenson. 8vo., sewn, as issued. Sydney, 1890. £7 10s.
- ¶ Genuine first edition. On title-page is printed: "With Mr. R. L. Stevenson's compliments." This is the exceedingly rare first edition printed at Sydney, New South Wales, for presents amongst the author's friends. Very few copies were issued, and a small number only could have found their way to this country. It is unknown to the majority of collectors of Stevenson. Copies have been sold in England for £10 10s., and a copy lately offered by a New York bookseller was priced $65.

¶ As I have already remarked, in speaking of the First Foote Sale, the prices realized must by no means be taken as the true market prices. They were altogether outside these. But the sale is interesting as showing to what lengths collectors will go, in an anxiety to obtain volumes of special libraries and in specially fine conditions. The Foote Collection undoubtedly realized some of the most phenomenally high prices that have ever been obtained at a modern sale. I am firmly of opinion that no bookseller could hope to obtain such prices from his customers, be his clientèle ever so wealthy an one.

SALE OF MODERN PUBLICATIONS AND MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS.

Messrs. Hodgson, February 28th and 29th, March 6th, 7th, and 8th, and March 20th, 21st, and 22nd.

¶ At all these sales there were distributed many lots of "remainders," but as these are of little value for the purpose of this guide, I have omitted them, and selected only those which are worth noting. The prices realized are of good indication as to market values.

SALE OF THE LIBRARIES OF T. B. T. HILDYARD, ESQ., AND THE HON. LADY SIMEON. ALSO SELECTIONS FROM THE LIBRARY OF A NOBLEMAN, AND OF THE LIBRARY OF THE LATE C. F. PERKINS, ESQ., ETC.

Messrs. Sotheby and Co., April 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, and 26th, 1895.

¶ A Sale in every way interesting—there were some excellent sporting books and county histories, as well as many rare Americana. Dramatic biography and stage history were well represented, but did not fetch very good prices. The first four folios of Shakespeare, and some rare early books on music, are also to be noted. The prices may be taken as of average indication. The really good books went very high; the mediocre books rather low.

SALE OF THE LIBRARY OF THE REV. W. BENTINCK L. HAWKINS.
 (THIRD PORTION.)

Messrs. Christie, Manson, and Woods' Rooms, April 24th, 1895.

¶ I have given a full selection from this sale because of the unique collection of books in rare and fine bindings, as well as of "particular" copies. It is not often that so fine a collection occurs for sale. Of course the prices realized must not be taken as a standard for the books in their ordinary conditions. The bindings, together with the fact that many of the copies were once possessed by personages of historic note, have contributed to make the lots sell as high as they did.

SALE OF THE LIBRARY OF J. W. BUTTERWORTH, ESQ., F.S.A.; ALSO OF WORKS FROM ANOTHER SOURCE.

Messrs. Hodgson, May 22nd and 23rd, 1895.

¶ This sale will serve to show the futility of speculating largely in modern large paper editions, or in artificially "boomed" works, issued in limited editions. That Mr. Wise's "Bibliography" should fetch only 9s. is a fate which its originator never, for one moment, expected it would have, but which, I confess, amounts to almost divine justice. There may be this to be said for the low prices realized by the lots from the "other sources," that they looked suspiciously like a book-sellers' "rig."

SALE OF A PORTION OF THE LIBRARY OF MR. G. H. SWINDELLS.

Messrs. Sotheby and Co., June 5th and 6th, 1895.

¶ Mr. Swindells is a well-known Manchester book collector. He collected, however, to please his own taste for reading, and the present sale amply illustrates that, for purposes of profit, such a method is not a fruitful one. The prices realized must have totted up to a sum far below that which Mr. Swindells paid for his books. To collect for profit one must choose the craze of the day, and sell out before the craze is passed away. The books of Prince Lucien Buonaparte well illustrate this. They consisted of very rare books, but the books were of such a kind as were not in demand, and the prices they realized were too absurd for quotation. Of Mr. Swindells' books I have recorded here many examples of low prices fetched by good books. The low prices may be partly accounted for by the unseasonable time at which the sale occurred. June is not a very good time for a book sale.

 3883. Grose (F.). THE ANTIQUITIES OF ENGLAND AND WALES. Plates. 8 vols. Tree calf gilt. 4to. 1783. £1

SALE OF THE LIBRARY OF A NOBLE LADY, AND OTHERS.

Messrs. Sotheby and Co., July 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, 1895.

¶ A most interesting sale. There were many letters and manuscripts of Burns and Scott; but these I have not given here, as this work does not take such collectanea into account. The fine copy of the third folio Shakespeare, and the rare Americana, as well as the rare and early editions of English and foreign writers, are specially noteworthy. Such items do not often occur for sale. The prices ranged high, but not higher than their fine conditions and the rarity of the books warranted.

SALE OF BOOKS BELONGING TO A. YOUNG, ESQ., AND A GENTLEMAN.

Messrs. Puttick and Simpson, December 16th, 17th, and 18th, 1895.

¶ An interesting sale. Many of the items consisted of early seventeenth century first editions of English poets and dramatists. At the prices at which these were sold I should think that the buyers obtained them cheap. If the sums were doubled they would more nearly represent the true values. Some rare Americana are worth noting. It is interesting also to compare the falling off in the prices of some of these latter. Large paper modern books were, as usual, at a discount; as were also early editions of the classics.

DEALERS IN

RARE BOOKS, PRINTS, AND MAPS

RELATING TO AMERICA.

39, GREAT RUSSELL STREET, LONDON, W.C.

OPPOSITE THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

"AMERICANA."

BOOKSELLERS and private owners of rare books, pamphlets, maps, etc., relating to America, are invited to report them to us before cataloguing or offering elsewhere. We are very eager buyers, and having a very extensive knowledge of this particular branch of the trade, we can generally afford to give the highest market value. All reports promptly answered, and orders sent whenever possible.

SECOND-HAND BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES SOLICITED.

N.B. EVERY catalogue carefully read.

"AMERICAN BOOK PRICES CURRENT."

We are sole agents for this new annual American publication. Vol. I., giving the prices realized at auction in America in 1895, contains over 6,000 references. Only 400 copies printed, 460 pages, buckram, gilt top. Subscribed at $6 = 24s. net, the price has since been raised to $8 = 32s., and the work is now entirely out of print in America. The few remaining copies are held here by us at 32s. net. The trade will find this a valuable manual of information, as the American market differs considerably from the English, and many classes of books which are slow of sale here realize good prices readily on the other side.

BOOK-BUYERS' LISTS OF DESIDERATA SOLICITED.

Reports thereon, or of kindred works on special subjects, made from time to time as the books are met with.
